

3rd Annual IPP Show & Expo

Meet the Judges

Annie Cooney

Has been raising Idaho Pasture Pigs since 2019 and when she is not on her farm she is on call 24/7 with her animal care business where she is helping others with emergencies, goat hoof trims and more when the vet is not available. Her farm, Red Rode Farm, is located in Rainier, Oregon where she raises goats, cows, Idaho Pasture Pigs, chickens and livestock guardian dogs.

Dave Cronauer

Has been raising Idaho Pasture Pigs since 2012 and ran a very successful chiropractic office with his wife for 16 years before retiring from chiropractic to focus solely on the farm. In the past 13 years he and his family have done a number of castration demonstrations, spoke to thousands of people regarding their pasture pigs, and given many talks at Mother Earth News Fairs. He lives on his farm, White Bison Farm, with his wife and two sons located in Laona, Wisconsin where they raise Idaho Pasture Pigs, American Bison, and free-range chickens. He and his wife, Jodi, started the Idaho Pasture Pig Registry to preserve the breed that they had come to love so much and have worked hard the past 10 years to develop and promote the Idaho Pasture Pigs breed.

Julie Wu

Has been raising Idaho Pasture Pigs since 2017 and been in the world of livestock since a young child with horses. Julie lives on her farm, Hollow Hill, with her husband and two boys. The farm is located in Pottstown PA where they raise horses, Idaho Pasture Pigs, goats, ducks, chicken and livestock guardian dogs. She has always had a passion for animals, learning all about them and is on the Idaho Pasture Pig Breed Association as Vice President and before that was the Show and Expo Superintendent August 2022 – April 2023.
